

A note for the Tooth Fairy

Dear Tooth Fairy,

My name is _____ and I am _____ years old.

My tooth came out when I was _____.

It was my _____ tooth.

Please take good care of it.

From _____

A letter from the Tooth Fairy

Dear _____,

Thank you for leaving your tooth for me tonight. I flew in very quietly, so I didn't wake you.

Your tooth is shiny and clean, which tells me you have been brushing it every morning and every night.

I will keep it somewhere safe. Sleep well, and keep looking after the teeth you have left.

Love, the Tooth Fairy

For a very first tooth

Dear _____,

A first tooth is a very special tooth, and I have been waiting for yours.

It means you are growing up, one tooth at a time. A new, bigger tooth will grow in its place.

I have written your name in my book of first teeth, next to today's date: _____.

With a sparkle, the Tooth Fairy

For a tooth that got lost

Dear _____,

I heard that your tooth came out but got lost before bedtime. Please don't worry. It happens to lots of children.

Tooth fairies can tell when a tooth has come out, even if nobody can find it. So I came anyway.

If it turns up one day, you can keep it as a little treasure of your own.

Love, the Tooth Fairy
